Acceptable forms of id for nightclubs uk

A CitizenCard is an official UK id/proof of age book recognized as such by the Home Office, Chartered Trading Standards Institute and almost all UK retailers and public transport providers, including UK airlines. The adult photo ID card over 18+ displays the police and security industry authority's websites, and all CitizenCard cards carry the PASS hologram. A Standard app costs £15 and lasts 21 days (card posted by Royal Mail 2nd class); an emergency request costs £30 and lasts 1-2 business days (subject to verification; posted special delivery card guaranteed the next day of 1pm). In addition to the CitizenCard ID we also offer a You CitizenCard, which can be used to create your identity on the free You app. This means that you will have a physical ID card and the ability to create an ID on your mobile phone. You can select the type of card you need during the paperless online application process. All CitizenCards displays one of the following age-relevant age bands when we send you the card: Wearing the PASS hologram, CitizenCard is well established as the most recognised ID card in the UK. Even if you have a passport or driver's license, keep these ids safe at home and request a CitizenCard for your daily ID and proof of age needs. You can use CitizenCard for: home shopping (including the purchase of alcohol and tobacco) starting the service or for a job interview accessing housing services or supporting lottery game benefits or buying scratchcards renting a new home visit prisons buying videos (DVDs or Blu-Ray discs) and computer games that require a UK driver's license (as proof of your identity) visiting bookmakers, bingo or casino entry to nightclubs, bars and pubs entry to travel festivals and domestic flights (including British overseas territories, would be Channel Islands) any other age-restricted entry or purchase if we issue you with a CitizenCard remains our legal property. You can use it if you are the legal holder of the card for the purpose allowed to prove your identity or age. If you need the next age band card (for example, you are 17 years old but want an 18+ UK ID card), you must either select the age band required when applying online or attach a cover note to the application form, explaining which age band you want. Read more about CitizenCard features. Watch CitizenCard helped Julian get into pubs & bars... If you need your credit card make an urgent application using our paperless online app system. Make sure you follow our photo requirements when uploading your photo. If you do not have a valid (UK or international) passport, photo (UK or European) driving licence or European national identity card, you need an arbitrator - a professional person who validates the original document(s) or confirms your data from the official records. If applicable, check that the arbitrator has filled out the referee's digital declaration form to send us the working details. If necessary, make sure that the referee can be telephone and e-mail during business hours at their workplace. You may think that there are no consequences to use a fake id in clubs and pubs in order to get entry because you are under 18 years old. You may also think that there are small or no consequences of using your older brother or sister's ID to enter a club. In fact, there is quite a lot to lose when you use fake or fake ID. Read the facts and be aware. What are the consequences of using a fake or borrowed ID? Arrest and prosecution for the person using the fake/borrowed ID, as it is fundamentally identity fraud. A fine of up to £5,000. Being banned from units when they are eventually of a legal age to drink alcohol. Confiscation of false/false identification, even if the identity document belongs to someone else. The identification will then be sent back to the relevant agency. Those who lend you their passport or driver's licence will face the consequences of not being able to travel because their passport is confiscated or that they have to pay for a new driving licence. Having a criminal record for the use of false or borrowed identification may affect future career prospects. Asking parents to buy alcohol for you also has its consequences. They can also be issued a fine of up to £5,000. Door staff are instructed to check if there is a false/false ID and will not be tricked. Remember the consequences. See also the Drinkaware website. To sell alcohol to someone under 18 anywhere, and can result in a maximum fine of £20,000 for bar staff/managers or headquarters can eventually be closed. Knowingly selling alcohol to someone is drunk. To knowingly buy/get, or try to buy/get, alcohol for a drunk person on a licensed premises, for example, a bar or club. For an adult to buy or try to buy alcohol on behalf of a person under 18*. For someone under 18 to buy alcohol, trying to buy alcohol or to be sold alcohol. Refuse the sale of alcohol to an adult if they are accompanied by a child and believe that alcohol is bought for the child.* It is not illegal for someone over 18 to buy a child over 16 beer, wine or cider if they eat a meal together in authorized premises. It is also not illegal for a child between the ages of 5 and 16 to drink alcohol at home or in other private spaces. More about the law on alcohol and under 18 the police has the power to: confiscate alcohol from someone, regardless of their age, if they think they were, or will be drunk by, someone under 18 in a public place. You can find more information on police powers to implement legal drinking on our alcohol law and under 18 page. It is a crime to use false or borrowed documents to enter authorized premises or to purchase alcohol. The maximum penalty is a fine of £5,000 and up to 10 years in prison.2 Challenge 25 is a scheme that encourages anyone who is over 18 but looks under 25 years old to carry the acceptable ID when they want to buy alcohol. Challenge 25 is based on the Challenge 21 campaign introduced by the British Beer and Pub Association in 2005, which beer and pub sector. It is now run by the Retail Alcohol Standards Group, which represents alcohol retailers. If you are licensed or involved in the sale of alcohol to the public, visit the Wine and Spirit Trade Association (WSTA) website for more information about Challenge 25.
